OUR ABSENTEE GOVERNMENT.
(From Harvey's Weekly.)
Washington as the American seat of government becomes increasingly a tradition.
There is no President here. There is no Congress in session. There is no Secretary of State. The Secretary without portfolio, Col. House, is absent, and now the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy are going abroad. Why not send all the others, including the Supreme Court, and let Joe Tumulty run the whole show?

USE FOR WASTE CORN COBS.
A big Middle West hominy plant is to install on a large scale the process for the manufacture of corn-cob adhesive developed by the United States Department of Agriculture. This adhesive, a dark brown, gummy substance, is said to be suitable for use in making fiber board and paper boxes, bill posting, labeling, and wherever a colorless adhesive is not required. The process of manufacture is simple and the yield is large, the grade A adhesive amounting to as much as 45 per cent by weight of the corn-cobs, and the grade B to as much as 30 per cent additional. If this material should replace all other adhesives, enough could be manufactured from 3 per cent of the corn-cobs produced in the United States to meet the demand. Use of this substance in place of starch, dextrine and flour paste would make possible an enormous saving of these food-stuffs.

WOULD SAVE LOSSES FROM DISEASE.
The importance of the work of the state health department is emphasized by consideration of record that during last year 24,000 persons in this state died from communicable diseases. These deaths represented less than one-third of such diseases, so that there has been enormous loss of life and property which could be prevented.
The state board of health as part of its campaign to lessen these losses, has planned for a health promotion week which will begin the second Monday in May. It is the purpose thru agencies of the government and thru organizations and individuals during this week to bring to the attention of the people as never before questions relating to health.

A UNIQUE CAMPAIGN.
One of the most unique municipal campaigns Chicago has ever known for years came to a close last night. With three candidates in the field, indications point to the re-election of Mayor Thompson. His alleged unpatriotic conduct during the war period has been the basis of the campaign waged against him by the Hoyne and Switzer interests. The effort of Chicago papers opposing Thompson has been to bring all possible military and patriotic pressure against him.
To that end much of the most potent campaign material has come thru overseas correspondence. Evidently the Tribune has felt that if the opposition of Chicago soldiers overseas to Thompson could be shown and their friends at home aligned against the mayor, that this constituted the best opportunity to bring about his defeat. It has cost something to wage this kind of a campaign but the matter of expense never worries the Tribune.

TODAY'S ELECTION.
The judicial election today is one of the most important election events of this year. Because there is only one office to be filled some voters are likely to fail in appreciation of the need of voting. As has been reiterated in past weeks, the questions which are to come before the supreme court in the next few years will overshadow even those matters which commonly come up for final consideration. There will be questions related to the reconstruction period, others occasioned from the constitutional convention and altogether it is a time when the voters should use the greatest care in the selection of supreme court members.

George H. Wilson, the Republican candidate, is a lawyer whose public record extends thru a period of thirty years and it is a record to which he can invite inspection. His opponent is a young lawyer of ability, who has the good opinion of those who know him best. However, he was an infant in arms when Mr. Wilson began practicing law and it is not reasonable to assume that his experience or preparation for supreme court duties are equal to those of Mr. Wilson. Don't forget to vote today and lend your support to a man of seasoned experience.

THE RURAL ROUTE SHAKE-UP.
Possibly it is a little too early to criticize the postoffice department order which brings about such radical changes in the rural routes of Morgan county, but people who live in the vicinity of Joy Prairie certainly do not think it is too early to criticize. The change the department has made gives them service far less satisfactory than has been in effect in the past.
A study of the rural route map of the county, together with the changes made, indicates that someone sat at his desk in Washington and figured out these changes without a first-hand knowledge of the effect that these changes would make. The department seemingly wants to increase the pay of rural carriers by increasing the length of the routes and at the same time to cut down expenses by reducing the number of routes. It may be possible to accomplish this in a satisfactory way but that fact will have to be proven. Judged by the other changes the department has made, under the present management, these changes will not provide "the greatest good to the greatest number."

Rippling Rhymes

Home to Roost.
All evil things come home to roost and cause much anguish and distress; so I give righteousness a boost, through selfish motives, more or less. A man must have a fair renown if he'd enjoy his journey here; must have high credit in his town, and in the country far and near. A chap may think he'll put across, unmarked, some little crooked game; but all his profits are a loss for he has soiled his snowy fame. Some day when he would make the race for coroner or county clerk, his misdeed swats him in the face, and spoils long years of goodly work. I'm old and full of virtue now, but never do I cease to hear of how I kidnapped Johnson's cow, upon a distant bygone year. I stand up in the Sabbath school, and hand out saws and maxims fine, and while I thus expound and drool I hear kids whisper, "Johnson's kine!" I might be honored, now I'm gray and have a halo o'er my brow, but for that dark and fateful day when I eloped with Johnson's cow. We say a man can live it down, if he should cheat or lie or steal, but better is the white renown that has no blemish to conceal. The evil birds are all unloosed in our old age, a noisome host, and they come flying home to roost, just when the blamed things hurt the most.

BERGLAND IS STILL AT LARGE
Sheriff Weatherford is still seeking Carl Bergland who escaped from the county jail some time Friday night by means of a rope improvised from bed clothing. The sheriff and his deputies were able to follow Bergland's trail well beyond Beardstown but there information about the fugitive ceased. Notices have been sent to various points throughout the state and there is little doubt but that Bergland will soon be again taken into custody.

Remember the judicial election today. Polling places are the same as used in all county elections. Women cannot vote.

ARMY VETERAN HERE TO HELP WITH DRIVE

Andrew Hampton in War for Four Years Knows Kind of Service the Salvation Army Gave.
Andrew Hampton, until recently sergeant major in the English army and now serving as home service organizer for the Salvation Army, is in Jacksonville. Mr. Hampton comes at this time to aid the Elks in the Salvation Army drive which is to be put on the latter days of this week. The visitor served thruout the war and altho he went over the top nineteen times, was several times wounded and gassed, he is still practically sound in body. It happened that Mr. Hampton, then in the merchant marine service of the U. S. S. was in England on Aug. 4, 1914. The vessel on which he was engaged was discharging its cargo. He heard about the war, enlisted Aug. 6 in a Welsh regiment and by the 19th was in the front line and took part in the movement on Mons. So he participated in the first battle of the Marne and was a participant at Givenchy when the Germans used gas for the first time. He was one of those who caught some of the gas fumes but was not seriously affected. The men, it will be remembered, at that time were absolutely without any protection from gas but used wet handkerchiefs, mufflers or any piece of cloth that they could improvise for the purpose.

In Hospital.
At Dixmunde, Belgium, he was again gassed, this time much more seriously, and was in a hospital for a number of weeks. Following this term he was in the war continuously, taking part in many battles and going over the top nineteen times. On June 25, 1918, having been several times wounded from which he had partially recovered, he was transferred to the marine branch of the Royal engineers. He was in this service when the armistice was signed. Upon being discharged from the army Jan. 21, last, Mr. Hampton came to the U. S. on the Adriatic, reaching port Feb. 4. He immediately engaged as an organizer and publicity man for the Salvation Army, and has in the intervening weeks assisted or directed a number of special campaigns.

"I have been for these years an observer of the splendid patriotic work of the Salvation Army and I am taking this opportunity of repaying to the best of my ability the debt which men in military service owe to this organization. Representatives of the Salvation Army were at the very battle front and it is a real fact that at Cambrai and at some of the other battles of the war that the army representatives were so eager to be helpful to the men at the front that they came near interfering with military operations. There was no danger too great or no service too severe for them and so thousands of soldiers, survivors of the war today owe the army a great debt of gratitude."

Mr. Hampton was born in Texas forty-one years ago and began service with the merchant marine when a lad of fifteen years. When he entered the Welsh regiment at the beginning of the great war it was not without experience for he served in the South African war from 1899 to 1903 and was with Madero in the Mexican war.

The 65th wedding anniversary celebrated. Many in this city are well acquainted with the venerable Peter Obermeyer and wife of Winchester. Mr. Obermeyer is a native of Bavaria and came to this country in 1852 and two years later was married to Lucinda E. Beasley whose entire life has been spent in Scott county. They lived happily together till the beginning of the civil war when the father left his wife and five little children to serve more than three years in the army of Tennessee under Gen. Sherman. He returned to civil life and five more children were added to the family and a few years ago the golden wedding anniversary was celebrated with all ten children present. Since that time two have died; Mrs. A. C. Smith of Winchester and J. A. Obermeyer of this city. The aged couple have lived to see the fifth generation and are yet in fairly good health. Mr. Obermeyer being 85 years of age and his wife 81.

Last Sunday the 65th wedding anniversary was celebrated at the family home in Winchester and as the aged couple have been members of the Baptist church for over 65 years the morning services were largely devoted to the occasion. Their favorite hymns were sung and the pastor, Rev. W. R. Johnson, spoke feelingly regarding them. He also paid a tribute to them as friends and neighbors as he has lived next door to them for some time.
A fine dinner was enjoyed and the pastor was present and remained during a part of the afternoon. Among numerous tokens of esteem were many lovely flowers. Several bouquets being sent by William Heintz, a special friend of the family.

There were present from a distance, Mrs. H. A. Owing and Mrs. H. A. McKeene, and daughters, of Springfield; C. B. Obermeyer, son of Chicago, and his son Peter, Jr., Mrs. J. A. Obermeyer of Jacksonville; Dr. A. E. Obermeyer, wife and son, of Arcadia; and A. C. Smith of Winchester.

DEATHS

Wood.
Brief mention was made Sunday morning of the death of Mrs. Mary E. Wood at her home on South Main street. The funeral will be held this morning at the residence on South Main street at 10:30 o'clock in charge of Rev. W. H. Marbach. Interment will be in Diamond Grove cemetery.
Mrs. Wood was born on a farm a mile north of Carrollton Oct. 25, 1833 and spent her girlhood in that locality. It was April 29, 1869, that the deceased was married to the late James Wood and their home was established on a farm east of this city. Twenty-nine years ago Mr. and Mrs. Wood moved to Jacksonville and their home was on South Main street. For years Mr. Wood was interested in farming and he was long identified with the directing of the Jacksonville National bank. Mrs. Wood joined him in his land investments and was actively interested in his farming operations. The deceased had been a member of State Street church for many years and was a woman of strong character, whose interest in the church and in various philanthropic enterprises was unceasing. She was one of nine children, Elisha, Jehosephat, Elias, Ward, Lucy, Rufus, William and Calvin, of whom Elisha Eldred of Mountain Grove, Mo., and William Eldred of Geneseo, Kansas survive.

Mrs. Robinson was well known to many in this city and news of her death will be received with regret. She is survived by one daughter and one son, the latter in the army service in France.

Suits for Easter For Men and Women

Wear the clothes that are becoming to your figure, not the "fashionable" ones. "Fashion" is not style--correctness of design and line is the thing

We are nonconformists with regard to "fashions" which are so quick to come and go. We don't care a rap how they are wearing 'em in London or Gotham, but do have exact notions as to the proper thing here at home.

You are the one to be suited.

As clothing designers it is strictly up to us to produce clothes the way you want them, and we do. We take the different individualisms into account in our designing, and produce garments that are at the same time in keeping with correct style and the wearer's personal wishes.

As to patterns—you will find the very newest weaves here for suits for both men and women.

Another point—good work cannot be unduly hurried, and nothing but "good work" can go out of our shop. Easter is not far away. Come in and talk the matter over with us.

RURAL ROUTE CHANGES
EFFECTIVE TODAY

Three Routes in County Abolished By Department Order—Others Are Lengthened.

Various changes on the rural routes of Morgan county will go into effect today, in accordance with an order recently issued from the postmaster general's office in Washington. There have been twenty-seven routes in the county and by the order effective today the number will be reduced to twenty-four. Two of the three routes out of Chapin and the one out of Litterberry have been abolished. The patrons of the Litterberry route have been added to Jacksonville route 8, Virginia or Sinclair routes. This applies to the majority of the former Litterberry route patrons but some of them are now entirely without mail service unless they are willing to travel a considerable distance to a mail box.

The Chapin Mail. The patrons of the two Chapin routes that have been discontinued are supposed to be cared for on the Concord, Winchester, Bluffs and Jacksonville No. 7, routes. The twenty-four remaining routes in the county have all been lengthened an average of from 2 1/2 to 3 miles. This will mean an increase in pay for the carriers of about $100 a year. The three routes abolished were maintained at an expense of about $1,000, while $2,400 will be added to the pay of carriers who remain. These figures will mean a saving of $1,800 a year.

Since like changes are said to be going on in practically all other counties of the state, the yearly saving will run to a large sum. According to a statement last night by Assistant Postmaster Thomas Harber, who was asked about the matter, this is the purpose of the department. Mr. Harber would not venture an opinion as to whether the saving will be actual or whether or not the service is being improved. Judged by the number of complaints already made, it is the general opinion of people throughout the county that the re-districting is going to mean a less satisfactory service.

A Private Route. In the Joy Prairie neighborhood the patrons of a former Chapin route are showing what they think of the change by temporarily paying themselves for the service of a mail carrier. W. S. Brownlow has been carrying the route which served the Joy Prairie and the patrons have together raised a fund which will make it possible for him to continue to serve them. Without this service the Joy Prairie people would be on the Concord route. This was not satisfactory to them, as on the Concord route they cannot receive a morning paper on the date of its issuance and the first class mail will also reach them a day later than with the present arrangement.

The eight Jacksonville routes have all been lengthened and so a larger number of patrons will be served from this city. It is possible that the changes made, considered in the aggregate, may work out for more satisfactory service, but most patrons at this time are not inclined to look at the matter in that way.

The formal charge of murder was placed by the police against Dr. Northcott.

TOLD ABOUT Y. M. C. A.
WORK OVERSEAS

Rev. Lynn Pyatt Made Splendid Address at Christian Church Sunday Night.

Rev. Lynn Pyatt made an address at Central Christian church Sunday night which was heard by a large audience. Rev. Mr. Pyatt was in the overseas service for nearly eighteen months and was so in position to give a very accurate account of the work that the Y. M. C. A. organization conducted. His answer to the question so often asked, why supplies had to be sold at canteens when so large contributions were made here in the U. S., was a very satisfactory one.

The figures he gave showed that while millions were given toward the Y. M. C. A. fund, that this amount was small by comparison with the value of goods distributed thru the canteens and the cost of operation for Y. M. C. A. work. The money raised here was used to pay for buildings, entertainments, films, workers, rentals, taxes, transportation and losses which occurred thru accident or otherwise.

Rev. Mr. Pyatt said that it would have required a sum of at least $400,000,000 to provide special canteen supplies free of charge for one year to our soldiers overseas. He spoke eloquently and held the attention of the audience from the beginning. The address gave not only an adequate understanding of the overseas Y. M. C. A. work, but brought out as well some little known facts about the great conflict.

By Purifying the Blood. Once you get your blood free from impurities—cleansed of the catarrhal poisons, which it is now a prey to because of its unhealthy state—then you will be relieved of catarrh—the dripping in the throat, hawking and spitting, raw sores in the nostrils, and the disagreeable bad breath. It was caused, in the first place, because your impoverished blood was easily infected. Possibly a slight cold or contact with someone who had a cold. But the point is—don't suffer with catarrh—it is not necessary. The remedy S. S. S., discovered over fifty years ago, tested, true and tried, is obtainable at any drug store. It has proven its value in thousands of cases. It will do so in your case. Get S. S. S. at once and be cured. If yours is a standing case, be sure to write free expert medical advice. We will tell you how this purely vegetable blood tonic cleanses impurities from the blood by actually washing it clean. We prove to you that thousands of sufferers from catarrh, after constant treatment with S. S. S., have been freed from the trouble and all its disagreeable features and restored to perfect health and vigor. Don't delay the treatment. MOLINE DISPATCH:

"He is a lawyer of ability, integrity and experience."

ELECTION TUESDAY, APRIL FIRST

A short outline of his lecture is given.

We have tried to study the history of the past and see if we can find any way to prevent wars in the future. The time was when men said war was necessary. Ruskin used to say that war cultivated the heroic while peace promoted selfishness. There must be an underlying motive for all things.

If we strive for the highest and best in peace we can ask nothing else. A man once talking to 800 penitentiary convicts said to them: "If there was a tall building on fire and a child was in an upper story any of you would risk your life to save the little one." So the writer who glorifies war plays on the thirst for the grand and heroic in every one.

An African chief in a land that had been colonized grumbled because he was asked to pay taxes. He said time was when he could go out with his warriors and take from another tribe all he wanted but now it was not the case. Is there not a way in which we may all have peace? Histories have been written which deal largely in wars. A boy who had studied the lore of the past was surprised to learn that people lived, farmed and worked in olden times as they live and work now. From the histories he supposed they were fighting all the time.

League of Nations Idea Not New The idea of a league of nations is not new. Henry the IV suggested it. So did Rousseau, a great Frenchman in the XIXth century. Bently in England said it was the best plan. Massini in the third quarter of the XIXth century advocated it. William Penn wrote concerning the same. In the last century Ladd discussed the plan and other great men and writers have been in favor of the same thing.

After the Napoleonic war another attempt at world peace was made. There have been two meetings at The Hague where the great minds of the world were engaged in an effort to secure peace. At Philadelphia there was formed in 1915 a league to enforce peace. An international court was suggested. This world league appealed to me deeply but it failed to bring peace.

English common law is at the basis of all civilization. In the early days two men had a controversy and it was settled by a tribunal and that set an example or precedent and so grew the common law of the realm.

League in South America. Some years ago the five Central American republics entered into a league to enforce peace.

A serious dispute arose between Honduras and San Salvador. Armed forces were all ordered back and the decision of the tribunal was accepted as final.

So it should have been between Serbia and Austria and then there would have been no great war. If nations cannot agree there should be a tribunal to settle the matter.

Each member should choose a member of the court and the decision of that body should be final. While our courts are not all we can ask, still they are the bulwark of our government.

Agreement at Hague Tribunal. At The Hague tribunal or conference our members were most careful to safeguard the Monroe Doctrine and a great effort was made to mitigate the evils of war.

All agreed to the following propositions:

Prisoners shall be treated humanely; shall not be put at hard labor and shall not work against their own nation and shall be paid for what they do.

Poisons shall not be used in any case.

No needless pain or taking life of prisoners.

Never violate a flag or truce or use it falsely.

No destruction of private property.

Defenseless towns shall not be bombed or attacked.

All churches, hospitals, art museums shall be spared.

No destructive missiles shall be dropped from aeroplanes or balloons.

Families shall not be disturbed; no confiscation; taxes shall be locally used.

We all know how flagrantly Germany violated all these agreements.

A number of amendments are needed in the league constitution as promulgated. The Monroe Doctrine must be fully preserved.

The right to withdraw must be safeguarded. I have studied the attitude of many toward Germany in the past and they thought the Kaiser and his leaders were wrong. How they were mistaken.

There are many matters to be regarded in a league of nations.

The safeguarding of uncivilized dependencies. The matter of overcrowded nations. America should be willing to make some sacrifices for the general good.

The league alone will not solve all problems. Many men need a change of mind and heart.

The great war was a conflict between two ideas.

One power went on the principle that a nation was justified in taking from others all forces could secure.

The other side said the rights of all shall be upheld.

This is a crucial time in the history of the world. Let us believe the problem can be solved in the right way. Let justice and mercy; reason and right prevail.

Let recalcitrant nations be brought into the agreement and let the awful scourge of war be known no more.

CHAPIN CHILD IS SERIOUSLY BURNED

Jerry Harris, Three Years Old, Son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harris, Perhaps Fatally Burned—At Our Savior's Hospital.

Jerry Harris, three years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harris of Chapin, is a patient at Our Savior's Hospital suffering from burns about the body that probably will result fatally.

About noon Monday Mrs. Harris had occasion to leave the house for a short time, leaving the child alone. In some manner it secured some matches and striking one, set fire to some newspapers.

The flames ignited the child's clothing and when Mrs. Harris, attracted by his screams, entered the house, he was enveloped in flames. She quickly extinguished them, but before the body had been badly burned.

First aid was given at Chapin and then the child was rushed to Our Savior's Hospital where Dr. J. W. Hargrove was called and gave the necessary treatment.

Late last night Dr. Hargrove stated to the Journal that he regarded the child's condition as critical and that death probably would ensue from the burns.

STATEMENT ABOUT PASSAVANT HOSPITAL

In the churches of Jacksonville yesterday the following statement, representing Passavant hospital, was read:

Passavant hospital is owned by the Protestant churches of Jacksonville. It is a property valued at $100,000.

This property was taken over by the churches of this city from the Association for Works of Mercy of the Evangelical Lutheran church of Illinois, primarily because that association found it impossible to maintain a nursing staff sufficient for the needs of the hospital.

The Passavant Memorial Hospital Association was formed, the management being vested in a board of trustees consisting of two members from each of the Protestant churches, and the hospital, Ladies' Aid Society, three from the medical staff, and three from the Ministerial Association.

It has for several years been the desire of those connected with the hospital to enlarge it and build an up-to-date addition. Accordingly a campaign was waged in which there was about $20,000 raised, and on April the 21st, 1918, the trustees authorized the executive committee to sign contracts for the building of the addition which is now very near completion.

The contracts for the building, heating, and plumbing amounted to $22,410 and since that time it has been found necessary to build a new boiler house and add another boiler at an added expense of $4,188.18.

The boiler now in use in the old building is yet to be moved to the new boiler house and both boilers

TO THE VOTERS OF JACKSONVILLE:

Thirty-three citizens, of their own free will and accord, it appears from the returns wrote my name on their ballots as a candidate for City Clerk at the primary election held on March 11th. I was not an avowed candidate, or I should have filed a petition as was suggested to me. Of the thirty-three voters, I know of the intentions of only three previous to the election and since then possibly eight or ten have told me how they voted. Of the remainder, I am not yet aware of their identity. However, since these friends (?) of mine went to the trouble of writing the name on their ballots and as many others have urged me to become a candidate, I decided to let it go at that and if elected April 15th, that I will serve to the best of my ability. I do not feel, as has been intimated to me on one or two occasions, that I am attempting wrongfully to deprive any one of "his job", because up to date what support I have received has been voluntarily offered and wholly unsolicited. Furthermore, the position is one to which each and every citizen of Jacksonville has the same right to aspire as any other citizen. I believe in a fair, clean contest and so far as I am concerned, nothing of a personal nature will be injected into this one, nor sanctioned by me if started by others.

I am heartily in accord with the views and sentiments of a local minister, whom I heard preach a sermon on politics a short time ago. He said every good citizen took an interest in politics and exercised his voting prerogative whenever opportunity offered. He advised voters to study the lives of not only the candidates, but also their friends and enemies. I do not know who my enemies are or may be, but I certainly am not ashamed of my friends and associates, or their records.

I lived in Morgan county for twenty years, and attended the High School and Illinois College in Jacksonville; am an Alumnus of the latter institution. Later I went west with the well known firm of Greenleaf & Baker of this city, returning home five years ago. My occupation has been largely that of a bookkeeper and general office work, with five years in newspaper work. For the last five years I have been with J. Capps & Sons.

I naturally shall be pleased if elected, but if a majority decide adversely, I shall be neither offended nor badly disappointed. I believe every voter should enter the voting booth untrammelled and free to vote as his conscience dictates. Hence, I would not exact a promise to vote for me even from my best friend. "Barkis is willin'." Let the voters decide.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM H. SLATER.

Henry J. Rodgers, Walter Ayers, Thomas Harber, Committee.

George Topping of Decatur is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Topping of this city. The father is master cameraman at the car shops. The young man belonged to the 35th artillery, headquarters and enlisted in April, 1917. He was kept in this country at various camps and finally went overseas but his command failed to have any part in the great conflict as they arrived at Metz just as the armistice was signed.

For a time he was stationed at Fort Washington, Maryland and engaged in the athletic contests there proving himself a fine sprinter. A big foot race was one of the events and after various contests there were culled out of the command about fifty runners for a mile race and in a contest over a mile course the young man won out first. He was anxious to use some of the same speed chasing the Huns but was denied the privilege.

George E. Colling Dies by His Own Hand Monday Afternoon—Had Been Despondent Since Death of Wife Last October—Winchester News Notes.

Winchester, March 31.—The community was shocked Monday afternoon a little after 3 o'clock when the news came that George E. Colling, living 4 1/2 miles northwest of the city, had committed suicide by shooting himself with a 32 calibre revolver. Mr. Colling and his son Paul moved to their present farm home March 1. Mrs. Colling passed away in October and since that time her husband has been very despondent. When the boy arrived he found his father lying on the floor with a bullet wound in his right temple. Dr. J. W. Eckman was summoned but found life extinct.

The death was a man of retiring disposition and had always been held in high esteem by all who knew him. He was a member of the Methodist church and had for years been a member of the choir there. For eleven years he was a partner in the firm of Townsend & Colling, furnace and tinware dealers, and prior to that time was connected with the W. C. Kuebler hardware store. Corner Thomas Webster, empaneled a jury composed of Gilford Leib, William Redshaw, William Barry, Willis McEvers, Arthur Bush, Dr. J. W. Eckman, to inquire into the cause of death. The deceased is survived by his son, Paul Colling, but there are no other near relatives. He and his son were guests at the Council home in Chapin on Sunday.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the late home.

COLORED SOLDIERS ARE WELCOMED HOME

Exercises Held at Second Baptist Church Sunday Evening

At Second Baptist church Sunday evening was held a home coming for returned soldiers. Two hundred of the local soldiers have returned from the army five of whom have been in the trenches in France.

The welcome meeting Sunday evening was arranged thru the efforts of the Jacksonville Civic League an organization of colored people. When the hour for the program to begin arrived, every seat in the church was taken and all available standing room. For two hours patriotism ran high and some stirring addresses were made following a fifteen minute sermon on the war by the pastor, Rev. H. H. DeWitt.

Dr. A. H. Kennelbrew was master of ceremonies and made a few introductory remarks.

Miss Ruth Abington opened the program with a well rendered piano solo, Napoleon's Last Charge. This was followed by talks by Corporals Dennis Mason, and Frank Wafful, Sergeant Walter Taylor and Private Wilson. The latter had been gassed twice and told of the effect it produced.

Sergeant Taylor told of the work of the Signal Corps to which he was attached in carrying messages during battle.

Lieutenant Pinkett told of the battle of Metz and the battle of Argonne forest. The lieutenant has great descriptive powers and held his auditors spell bound. It is to be regretted that every citizen in the city did not hear the remarks of the men.

A quintet number by Misses Gladys Hayden, Katherine Hayden, Frances Malone, Katherine Malone, Bevie Ross and Eleanor Lafayette, "Till We Meet," was given in a most beautiful manner.

Miss Gladys Hayden gave a vocal number and Capt. J. M. Swales of the Grand Army of the Republic gave a brief address.

The singing of the Star Spangled Banner and America by the audience was most inspiring. A social hour followed and refreshments were served.

A VERY LARGE ASSORTMENT OF DOLMANS AND CAPES TO CHOOSE FROM, AT HERMAN'S.

SOME LARGE FIGURES
A little more than fifty years ago the writer was visiting relatives in Quincy and a gentleman there remarked with pardonable pride that the banks of the place had three fourths of a million dollars on deposit and for those days it was a large sum. Now according to the bankers' report the place has twelve millions in the banks that make reports.

And talking of large figures, we find in Chicago, in millions, Corn Exchange Bank, 103. First National 206. Continental Commercial, 297. And New York in millions: Bankers Trust Co. 261. Chase National, 350. Guaranty Trust 563. National City, 751.

COUNCIL PREPARES TO HEAR OBJECTIONS

Fixed Thursday Morning as Time for Hearing Matter Relative to Election — Mr. Vasconcellos Member of Board—Prepare for Paving to Connect Hard Road and Morton Avenue.

The Monday morning session of the city council was quite brief. After Acting City Clerk Widmayer had read the minutes of the previous meeting on motion of the commissioner White a drawing was held to select the member of the council to serve on the election board. The law provides for the hearing of objections the board shall be constituted of the mayor, city clerk and one alderman or commissioner chosen by lot. The slips were placed in a hat and the name of Mr. Vasconcellos was drawn. It was announced that the hearing on objections which have been filed will be held Thursday morning at ten o'clock.

The ordinance permitting the construction of a track for the Eli Bridge Co., was given a second reading and adopted. The mayor and clerk were instructed to advertise for bids for the sale of $75,000 worth of water works bonds, the bids to be received April 14.

Ordinances for side walks on certain streets where property owners have failed to comply with the council order were given a second reading and passed. The ordinances referred to specified properties on North Fayette, Marion, Prospect, Edgemoor, North East, Anna Jordan, Frankman, Reid, Walnut, and Franklin streets and West Lafayette avenue.

Some minor matters of business were considered and the council then adjourned until 3:30 in the afternoon.

Afternoon Session.
At the meeting of the council Monday afternoon the ordinance was passed for the pavement of East State street from Johnson street to the city limits. This will be a brick pavement in accordance with the specifications already adopted.

A resolution was passed providing for a concrete pavement on East Morton avenue extending from Hardin avenue to the county line. The estimated cost for this improvement is $5,455. The concrete will be laid to a depth of 8 inches. It is not figured that the benefits to the contiguous property are sufficient to pay for the cost of this improvement and a portion of the cost will be otherwise arranged for. Several weeks ago the county board agreed to take over a part of the Morton avenue road between the C. and A. crossing and the west end of the Hardin road. When these two improvements are completed the hard road will connect with the Hardin avenue pavement.

Hospitalier Commandery No. 31 will hold a special convalesce this afternoon at 3 o'clock for work. Stated convalesce at 7:30 o'clock. Inspection. Visiting Knights welcome.

PREPARATIONS FOR SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL
[Special to the Journal.]

White Hall, March 31.—Preparations for the dedication of the soldiers' memorial trees at White Hall next Thursday are taking on large proportions. The number of trees in memory of soldiers who died in the service in the recent war has been increased from six to seven, with more complete information. A novel feature will be a drum corps under the leadership of Squire Reamer of St. Louis, aged 75 years, a veteran of the Civil War, who was a conspicuous figure in this section in drum corps at political rallies over thirty years ago. He is now in White Hall organizing a corps for the occasion.

ROYALISTS FAIL IN PORTUGAL

Monarchy Established at Oporto Proves Ephemeral—Counter-Revolution Succeeds in Restoring Republican Flag on Spires and Steeples of Portugal.

LISBON. — (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The monarchy established at Oporto and other districts in the north of Portugal proved ephemeral. Barely a month after its proclamation and enthusiastic welcome, a counter-revolution within the city, seconding the attack from outside by the republican troops sent by the government, succeeded with equal enthusiasm in restoring the republican flag on the spires and steeples of Portugal.

The royalists were led by Paiva Couceiro, a very brave and tenacious soldier, but an ineffective organizer. The continued discussions between republican factions led him to suppose the moment propitious for a return to the monarchy, and, without any agreement with the royalists of Lisbon and the south, he placed himself at the head of the monarchist elements of the north and, at the head of several thousand troops, proclaimed the monarchy at Oporto and in the northern provinces.

Provisional Government.

A provisional government was established; laws were issued and local administrative authorities appointed everywhere. Couceiro expected that other victorious royalist risings would follow all over the country. Instead of this, the Lisbon insurrection of Monarchists failed, and the same occurred in other localities while in many centers there were no disturbances of public order.

In face of the royalist danger, all the republican forces joined against the common enemy, momentarily forgetting clashing ambitions, and uniting to combat the north. Thousands of troops, seconded by marines and civilians, warships and aircraft, were soon in full operation against the monarchist hosts, whose strongholds, one after another, fell into the government's hands, and the surrounding of Oporto was merely a question of time.

Then came the sudden dramatic climax. The royalist government had resolved to appeal to the foreign powers for the recognition of their hegemony. Republican officers in Oporto, who had been meeting secretly and conspiring to bring about the downfall of the "kingdom" of the north, decided not to wait any longer, as the acceptance of hegemony by foreign powers meant the arrival of arms, munitions and the moral support which would weaken the claims of a republican victory.

Paiva Couceiro and his staff were fighting at Lameto on the 13th, and on that day the counter-revolution at Oporto broke out. Sharp fighting took place, but the big batteries of Leixoes Bay were in republican hands, so that the warships could approach and land their contingents at Oporto without danger.

Green Banner Floated.

The "royalist government" was placed under arrest; prisoners were freed, and the blue and white flag replaced by the red and green banner of the republic. The royalist troops returning from Lameto and other scenes of hard fighting, weary, hungry and demoralized, surrendered and were disarmed by the republican forces awaiting them outside the gates of Oporto.

About Couceiro there are many rumors. Some say he is still fighting, others that he has been killed, committed suicide or is safe over the Spanish border.

The republican government is still in Oporto reorganizing public services and reinstating loyal authorities. Thousands of arrests have been made, and many royalists are said to have escaped into Spain, where they are disarmed by the Spanish frontier guards.

TELLS ABOUT
SOLDIER'S DEATH

Alfred Worrall of Murrayville precinct recently received the following letter telling of the death of his son overseas:

Obermending, Germany.
February 26, 1919.
Province of Biele, Prussia with the Army of Occupation.

Mr. Alfred Worrall,
Athensville, Ill.

Dear Sir: Received your letter under the date of Feb. 5, 1919, and will try and relate the incident about your son.

First thing I want to say is that your son is dead, and I want to extend to you and your wife and family my tenderest sympathies and I also want to say that you should be proud of your son for he died a noble death.

I can't give you the exact date, but it was along about the 20th day of October we were in close support of the 5th division I believe, and one morning about ten o'clock we were ordered to take the front lines for the fourth time in twenty nine days. The day being a splendid day for "one" my observation we were at once "spotted" and, all of a sudden we were being shelled by countless big guns and bombed from the skies. For five hours we were in this hellish barrage and of course we were about all in when we arrived at the front and took up our positions. In about half an hour or so, after we had repulsed a counter attack launched by the Boche, I reached for my canteen to get a swallow of water—but I found it empty. I was almost starved for a drink and you know when a man is thirsty he will have it if it is to be had. I crawled for about six hundred yards to the rear where there happened to be a small patch of woods, which was completely torn down by the terrible shelling from enemy guns, but afforded excellent protection from machine guns and snipers. After I had made my way into the woods some two or three hundred feet (in search of a shell hole that might have water in it) I ran across a trail or track that looked as if somebody had dragged their body thru the mud and brush and water. I also noticed quite a bit of blood, so I followed the trail thinking that I might be able to give "first aid". Sure enough after I had followed the trail for about one hundred feet, I ran across a man inside an old shed. I wouldn't paid any more attention to him, after I had felt his pulse, for there were hundreds of dead men around but there was something unusual about this man. He was lying on his back with his head upon a pole or chunk of wood, he had his shirt pulled out of his trousers as if he had looked at his wound and a small pocket bible in one hand and a pencil in the other. On the first sheet in the bible which is always blank, he had written his name and I thought also his brother's name, but maybe I am mistaken, and a short prayer and then a message which ran something like this — "who ever finds me please send this message and bible to my mother and say that I died happy."

My dear friends I would have taken the bible, but I didn't know what moment I would be doing the same thing. So I memorized or at least tried to memorize the names and addresses and message given and made up my mind if I ever got out alive, I would write to you people.

Your son was on the line, by a high explosive shell, and by the size of the wound I don't think he suffered very long.

Am sorry I didn't run across him sooner for I might have saved his life but I doubt it much for he had a bad wound.

I don't see how any of us came thru alive but I guess the Good Man picked out the ones He wanted and called them.

If there ever was a hell on earth it must have been there that day, it was a cess pool of agony and misery and destruction abounded.

I don't know what outfit your son belonged to but I know that he was in a place when he died that you should be proud of. He didn't have a pack on, nor did I see a rifle any place, but of course none of us had a pack for we were compelled to throw them away (rations and all), so as to get along.

My home is in Indianapolis, Ind., at 1018 Cornell avenue, and when I get home if any of you people chance to be near, call around and I will entertain you to the best of my ability.

I joined the colors last February and arrived in Europe in time to be in the terrible battle of the Marne, in July, also was in the thick of the St. Mihiel drive and the Argonne-Meuse drive. The latter was the one your son was killed in. Your son was buried with several others in that patch of woods. The engineers made a very pretty little cemetery with small wooden head pieces with the men's identification tags attached, that is those that had them on.

After we were relieved we went to the rear for a few days rest and to get "filled up" as our ranks were somewhat depleted and was loaded on trucks to go back to the front when the armistice was signed. Thank God.

My heart is bleeding for you people for I realize how you feel about it. Once more I offer my tenderest sympathies and may God take care of your son. I am closing with highest regards and best wishes. Allow me to sign my name as a friend,
Pvt. C. E. Naper.

MARRIES ARMY MAN

Miss Elsie McEvers Weds. Lieut. William J. Varner at Davenport, Iowa—Will Reside in Madison, Wisconsin.

Relatives here have received word of the marriage of Miss Elsie McEvers to Lieutenant William J. Varner. The ceremony was said at the First Presbyterian church Manse in Davenport, Iowa, on March 28 by Rev. Rollo L. Rilling chaplain of the 379 infantry U. S. A., a personal friend of the groom.

Lieutenant Varner is a graduate of Princeton and is associated with the Moline Plow company in the export department. He had expected to go to Europe for the company and take his bride for a wedding trip but unsettled conditions in over there made a postponement of the trip necessary.

The lieutenant has also engaged in botanical research work and has visited Hawaii, Australia and Europe in this connection. He also saw active service in France and was gassed and shortly afterward was discharged.

Mrs. Varner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cicero McEvers of this city and the early years of her life were spent here. For a number of years she has been engaged in the millinery business. She was head saleslady for Gimble Brothers in Milwaukee and later conducted a millinery establishment of her own at Harvey, Ill.

When the war broke out she disposed of her millinery business and did her "bit" by entering a munition plant where she remained for eight months. The past season she has been in the millinery department of the L. S. McCabe's department store at Rock Island.

Lieut. Varner will be for the present in charge of the state of Wisconsin for the Moline Plow company with headquarters at Madison. They will be at home at the New Park hotel in that city.

A LETTER FROM FRANCE.

Mrs. Thos. V. Hopper has received the following interesting letter from her cousin, Chas. E. Kitner:

Dear Cousin Alice:

FOR FLOWERS CALL

ALONZO SMITH
208 South Main St.

We are still in this foreign country and no news of going home. There seems to be troops moving, but no combat division seems to be all causal and replacement divisions. Guess a lot of the air forces have returned, but us poor devils are still here. We are being fed good now, have good billets, and they are doing everything possible to entertain us, still we are not satisfied until they ship me across that pond.

Had a home talent show here a couple nights ago, now they are going all over the division and putting on the show. About all we do is go on a maneuver once a week, the rest of the time, we sit around the fire and go to chew 2 or 3 times a day. Sometimes we do not get up for breakfast, but usually try to get up and bunks made before 9 a. m., because Dr. Payne our medical lieutenant comes around and inspects our billets, he has given us the deuce several times now already. It makes him sore to catch some of us in bed. The poor doughboys have to stand reveille and of course they are always up. So we are about the only ones he is able to catch.

Only 7 of us signal corps men out here. Our Bn. is split up all over the division about 7 with each Bn. of infantry and a detail water and division headquarters. So it is impossible for us to have one of our own officers here with us. The major of the 2nd Bn. 52nd Infantry looks after us pretty good.

I got a letter from Ira just after getting back from my vacation, he is stationed near Coblenz, Germany, he is on the watch on the Ryan. Sure hope he gets to go home soon. Poor fellow he has went thru a lot of hell over here. When I saw him at Artais in the Argonne drive, he told me there is only 10 in his Co. that came over with them—10 left out of 250 is going some. They were hit hard being the first division to arrive over here, have been kept busy on the fronts. The K. of C's. have treated us boys fine over here. Everything they have they give away and will not charge a cent. Of course their headquarters are not as thick as the Y. M. C. A., but where they are they are liked by all the boys. Must get ready to go to supper. Write soon and give me the news. Florence says she got a letter from you a mile back. Your cousin, Elsom.

FROM SERGT. OLIVER B. PYLES.

The letter which appears below was recently received from Sergt. Oliver B. Pyles, who is with Co. C, 323d Light Bn., in France: A Country Town in France Feb. 17, 1919.

Members Journal Staff: I know you will be somewhat surprised to receive a letter from me after so long a time, but as the old moral goes, "It is better late than never." How is dear Old Jacksonville? I am sure longing to see her again. But I don't know when our time will come. Miss Allen sends me a copy of the Journal every few weeks and you can't imagine just how much I enjoy reading it.

Well France is sure a beautiful country. We are in the advance section S. O. S. located between Chaumont and Reims, but at one time I was driving a 3-ton English truck and then a Ford ambulance, so I have covered several miles in France. This is sure some hilly country but these Trogo sure know how to build a road. It is a real pleasure to drive here so mud.

I was made sargent the 16th of November. I did not like to leave the Poed, but since that time I am very, very glad, as I am in the dry by a good warm fire all the time, and you have so many more privileges when you have three stripes, even the I had to work pretty hard to get them, and now I work each day to keep them. I think a position in life is much better if you work and earn it, than it is to have it wished upon you, don't you?

I will never stop thanking you and friends for the send off you gave us boys when we were leaving for training camp. I am sure the other boys feel the same way. There are three of us still together, the other three went with the 355th Infantry.

There is not a bad word I would say of the army. It makes a good man out of a bad one and a better man of a good one and a man also learns to eat. When I came to the army almost hated to see tomatoes, now I dearly love them. You see, when they have canned Willy and tomatoes you have to eat them or go hungry. I tried going hungry for a few meals, and I saw that it did not hurt the cook's feeling at all, and there wasn't a Cafe Benson where I could get eggs and bacon, so I went right into the tomatoes and so on with the mulligan stew.

As there is a small creek between me and Jacksonville and I have to wait for the others, I can't say when I will be home. I am now wearing one service stripe. My arm looks real nice with one. I hope I won't have to spoil it by trying to sew another one on. Let us hope not.

Best regards to the Journal staff. Will write again soon.

Yours as ever,
Oliver B. Pyles,

Francis Arenz Writes

Mr. and Mrs. Francis F. Arenz received a long letter from their son, Private Francis F. Arenz, describing their long journey after they left Port Au Prince, Haiti, and landed at Guanaminthe, D. Haiti.

Guanaminthe, D. Haiti, Feb. 19, 1919.

Dear Mother, Father and Family: It is now about seven o'clock. Nothing else to do, so I thought I would write you a few lines to let you and the rest know what the Marines here are doing in Haiti. When I first joined the M. C. on the 8th of March, 1917, it was very easy for me and so until some time in Jan. 1919. When we go wood hunting some fun "Ha! Ha!" the next thing thecooks made coffee and fixed some food, which was "Corn Beef and Hard Tack." After supper the first thing I thought of was my bed to make. It was made out of one blanket and a poncho but it felt like a feather bed, and so I slept well until four o'clock the next morning when they woke us up. And believe me we only had time to break camp when breakfast was sounded, and as soon as it was over we started on the long "hike." The first few of the company was ordered to hike to Cape Haitien. I like all the rest of the boys, was glad to go, if nothing for but a change. So one morning bright and early about three o'clock they woke us up and we started on that long hike. The first thing we did was to get on board a boat that took us to a place called "Gonaives" where we stayed all night. The first thing we did was to pitch camp. After that we went wood hunting, but not the kind of wood hunting you are thinking about. Wood hunting did you ever? The hours went well but when we were in about four miles from the next stop everybody started to get tired. When we got to the next town the "cooks" had some hot coffee ready and it sure went good. There we fixed our camps and so we stayed here, place called "Enamy" that night. I was pretty tired for we "hiked" 28 miles in eight hours and so I didn't sleep very well. And the next morning we got up, it was about the same time as before, and had the same old stand by Can Bill and Hard Tack. That is the name the Marines gave it. It sure is good when you are hungry and that is the only time. Well we left "Enamy" about five o'clock that morning and hiked up hill until 11:30 when we came to another town called "Plaisance" where we had a good rest after dinner was served. That day my "bunkie" and myself cooked some eggs and fixed some other stuff. After we had finished eating I went to sleep but about midnight they woke us up and at one o'clock we were "hiking" again. I don't mind "hiking" early in the morning or in the day time but I do hate to get up at midnight to "hike" but it all comes in life. This hike was only 18 miles and was harder than the other one which was 28 miles. This hike only took us a little better than five hours but we climbed a mountain that was between four and five thousand feet above sea level and went across a few smaller ones. And when we got to "La Imbre" about six o'clock we pitched camp and I layed down and went to sleep and never woke up until midnight, when they woke us up to eat breakfast. I wouldn't of got up then but my "bunkie" threw the tent on top of me so I had to get up. Well everybody worked good that morning for we were on our homeward "hike" and it was only nineteen miles, so everybody did their best after breakfast to get started and so it was not long before we were on our way. It was the longest 19 miles we ever hiked but we made it well. It took us six hours and forty minutes. And during the long 87 mile "hike" there was not a man fell out and we made it in 8 hours less than the other company that we passed at "Gonaives." We left Gonaives at five o'clock on Monday and got to Cape Haitien on Thursday at 7:15. It took us three days and two hours. The Cape was a nice place and all the boys thought we would stay there and so all of us got our tents fixed up and everything in good shape. We were there one week when an order came to be ready to leave in the morning for Guanaminthe and so bright and early the next morning we ate and were gone before the other company was up. We hiked until noon and then fixed our dinner which they gave us to carry in our haversacks and then at three we started to "hike" and about five o'clock we came to a town called "La Lion" where we camped all night, but did not sleep, for about eight o'clock it began to rain. I was one of them who thought it wouldn't last long so

MAIL SERVICE OF
ROYAL AIR FORCE

Balloons Mark Course of Long Distance Mail Service from Boulogne, France, to Cologne, Germany—Emergency Landing Grounds Located Along Route.

LONDON. — (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Balloons are used as buoys above the clouds to mark the course of the long distance airplane mail service from Marquise, near Boulogne, France, to Cologne, Germany says an announcement of the Royal Air Force which is operating this service. Each balloon is marked with signs to indicate to the airplane pilot its exact locality and thus enable the pilots to shape their course anew when the weather is bad or the clouds are very low. The balloons also mark the landing grounds for the airplanes. Observers in the balloons are required to report the condition of the weather above the cloud layer, the speed and direction of wind and to pass this information to the nearest wireless station for transmission to the airplane pilots.

A chain of wireless stations has been organized along the route for the transmission of weather reports and if the pilot of an airplane is compelled to make a forced landing he is expected to report this location by wireless or telephone to the nearest wireless station so that a motor truck can be dispatched to recover the mails and render assistance to the airplane.

As it is the intention of the Royal Air Force to maintain a night mail service on this route, a chain of lighthouses also has been established and later, it is announced the balloons will be fitted for carrying signal lights and remaining aloft at night as a further guide to the pilots.

Should a pilot lose his way in the clouds, arrangements have been made whereby he will be able to get in communication with a wireless station from which he can receive directions how to proceed to the nearest landing ground. This wireless guidance is expected to be useful in bad weather or in night flying.

Emergency landing grounds have been located along the route in addition to the regular terminals and the airplanes carry pigeons to be used as messengers in case of accident.

This through service from Marquise to Cologne presents difficulties because of the range of hills, 2,000 feet high between the flat country of Northern France and the valley of the Rhine. This stretch of hilly country has few places suitable for landing and pilots flying above it frequently encounter clouds and bad weather.

The Royal Air Force has for sometime been carrying mail regularly between Marquise and Valenciennes and Namur, Belgium; and between Valenciennes and Spa, the headquarters of the armistice commission.

WIDE CHOICE OF WIVES IN ENGLAND
London, March 29.—There are one and a half million women in this country who will never have the chance of getting married, is the statement of Miss Norah March, editor of National Health. In 1917 there was a surplus of 1,337,000 marriageable women over marriageable men, and since then there have been the war casualties of 1918.

Miss March says that emigration will remove a few of these surplus women while economic independence will prevent women from marrying the men for the sake of a home.

"Many men and women in this age of modern advancement," says Miss March, "are getting different views from those held in the past, and regard women's right to motherhood as a supreme individual prerogative. Having such a wide choice of wives, the question remains as to whether the men will choose the best and strongest women, as upon the future human race, since the best of manhood has been cut off. The choice really rests with the woman for with her is the right of refusing an offer of marriage."

RELIGIOUS RELICS FOUND IN BAGGAGE
Laredo, Tex., March 28.—Customs officers say that religious relics of unestimated value, gold and antique and ancient altar clothes of fabric now obsolete, the foot of Catholic churches in Mexico by Mexican brigands was found in the baggage of Isaac B. Levy. He has been bound over to the April term of federal court.

Besides numerous expensive embellished and three solid bishops, the articles seized, according to the authorities, include a candle stand of solid gold and pearl and inlaid pearls and gold and net filigree work; a solid gold heart-shaped case of the Sacred Heart society studded with green stones and carved and intricately engraved; two smaller golden heart shaped emblems similarly embellished, and three gold solid silver candle sticks bearing an inscription in Spanish which translated reads: "These candlesticks belong to the hospital La Purissima."

There were also a number of valuable sacred paintings, one bearing the date of July 5, 1619, others being painted on ivory, and others painted on silk and giving evidence of having been in the Roman Catholic church of Mexico for centuries, it is stated.

$100,000 FIRE.
Cleveland, Ohio, March 28.—A spectacular fire which for a time threatened the downtown business district today destroyed the Siegler building with a loss estimated at $100,000.

The Sabinero is a shipping board steamer completed at Hog Island this year. She is a vessel of 5697 tons gross. She sailed from Philadelphia March 14 for Falmouth.

SENT WAR CROSS TO
PREMIER CLEMENCEAU

Great Frenchman Touched by Act of Humble Poilu in Sending Him Little Rusty Piece of Metal.

PARIS. — (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Premier Clemenceau was opening his mail this morning, as is his custom, merely glancing at some letters, making short annotations on others, in a fair way to dispose of his courier in the usual few minutes. Suddenly, upon opening a somewhat soiled and cheap envelope, the contents fell to the floor with a metallic sound.

The Premier picked them up, read the letter slowly, then read it again, and sat there staring at the paper with tears filling his eyes in spite of his efforts to suppress them. The letter read:

"They have not given you the war cross; here is mine. It has only two stars while you deserve two palms but it is the best I can offer; here it is." It was signed "An old Poilu."

And the "grand old man" of France, who with dry eyes has looked upon the horrors of two wars, picked up the little rusty piece of metal, the ribbon of which is soiled by the rain of the trenches or bespattered with the blood of its former owner, and wept.

"It might have been given to me by the President of the Republic or by a Marshal of France, with great pomp at the Invalides. Coming from this humble 'poilu' I shall treasure it forever," he said.

RESULTS OF ARMY MENTALITY TEST
URBANA, Ill.—Results of the army mentality test taken by 3,475 University of Illinois students show an "A" standard here. The University median is slightly over 140. The mark required to reach the highly superior intelligence standard is only 125.

The men students showed a consistently higher average than the women. Graduate students showed a median of slightly over 150, while the college of commerce came next with nearly 150.

STEAMER DISABLED.
London, March 29.—The American steamer Sabinero was towed in Plymouth on Friday evening after having been disabled at sea in a hurricane. A part of her cargo was jettisoned to save her from foundering.

COL. HOUSE PRAISES NORWAY

Paris, March 28.—Havas—Norway was praised as a friend of the entente by Col. E. M. House when the Norwegian delegation on the league of nations was presented to him today.

"No neutral nation gave the entente more help than Norway," Colonel House told the delegation. "Were Christianity not so remote from the center of European activities, that city would have been suggested as the seat of the league of nations."

TURKEY IS WELL SUPPLIED WITH FOOD

Abundance of Food, Notwithstanding Reports to Contrary, Care of Refugees Presents Most Serious Problem.

Constantinople, Feb. 28.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Contrary to reports Turkey is well supplied with food, and, while prices are unusually high, they are much lower than those prevailing in the Balkan states and in some other countries of Europe.

The following list of current prices which the consumer is called upon to pay shows the actual condition:

Flour 26 cents per pound;

potatoes 11 cents; beans 20 cents;

meat 50 cents, and eggs 90 cents a dozen.

Vegetables of all kinds are not only abundant but relatively cheap. Clothing and shoes also may be had, but generally the prices charged are so high as to take them far beyond the purses of the poor. Hotel rates are low, and the service is as good as could be expected in a country just emerging from a long war.

In order that foodstuffs may be placed within range of the poor, the American food administration is now selling white flour at ten cents a pound, which is expected to bring down other prices as far as the actual necessities are concerned. The work of the Americans is attracting attention and much interest.

Drugs, and in fact all medicines are very scarce and expensive. Most large centers in Turkey and Asia Minor need medical assistance.

Caring For Destitute.
The care of a million or more destitute Armenian, Syrian and Greek refugees in the Caucasus and throughout Asia Minor presents a most serious problem. It is estimated that there are in these countries no less than half a million fatherless children whose condition demands immediate relief.

The American committee for relief in the near east is taking up the task, but is finding that its resources are being severely taxed.

Small pox is prevalent in Constantinople, the cases having developed in the American colony, while the Swedish minister is only now recovering from a severe attack. Most hospitals are hard pressed for medicines and supplies, while the shortage of physicians is pronounced.

Finances, too, are disturbing the Turks. The Turkish pound has depreciated; its present value being twenty per cent below normal, while gold is at a high premium. The exchange rates of money of most other countries also has declined, the American dollar the English pound and the Greek drachma being the only issues which have stood firm at par.
